EDGERS

What should an Edger wear?

Sneakers, light hikers, climbing shoes or footwear with a soft, light-colored sole are recommended. No slippers, sandals, slip-on shoes, high heels, or steel-toe boots are allowed. Wear long pants and a long sleeve shirt. Athletic pants, tights and jeans are suitable. The harness goes around your legs, waist and shoulders, so it is best to avoid anything too bulky. Long hair must be tied back. Glasses will need to be secured with an eyewear retainer to keep them from falling. You will be given a pair of gloves and a helmet to wear while you rappel.

Are costumes allowed?

Many people choose to wear costumes for their rappel. All costumes will need to meet the same standards as listed above. Over the Edge with Friends reserves the right to approve or reject any costumes that do not meet the safety standards. If you have any questions about your costume, please email pictures of your costume prior to the event.

Can I bring my camera and phone?

For everyone's safety, we do not want any objects dropped over the side of the building. Therefore, you are not allowed to bring your phones or cameras to the roof. Family and friends are encouraged to take pictures from the landing zone area. Go Pro cameras will be provided for Edgers who have raised $2,000 or more by April 1st. Only pre-mounted Go Pro cameras provided by Over the Edge with Friends are allowed. No personal Go Pro cameras are allowed on the roof or during your rappel. We will provide your Over the Edge video to you after the event.

Can friends and family watch me as I go Over the Edge?

Supporters are encouraged to attend the event and watch you rappel down the building from the Landing Zone. Unfortunately, friends and family will not be allowed on the rooftop, since only those with safety harnesses and anchors will be admitted.

Do I need any experience?

No prior rappelling or climbing experience is necessary. When you arrive on site, you will be given instructions on how to use the equipment.

What will training be like for Edgers?

Each Edger will be given a specific time for their arrival and rappel. When an Edger arrives on site, they will be given training and will practice rappelling a shorter distance to experience hanging in the harness and using the descender. Proper rappelling position, where to keep your feet and hands, and use of the radios that participants wear will be discussed during their training session.

What can I do to practice?

Although no practice or prior climbing experience is required, rock climbing at a local climbing gym will strengthen your forearms and allow you to hang in a harness. Although the harnesses we use are different, you will still get an idea of what muscles it takes to stay upright. The most common complaint from participants after rappelling is that their forearm got sore during the descent. The new device used alleviates much of the difficulty and possibility of soreness experienced in the past. Proper techniques like switching arms and the new device will make a lot of difference.

How long does the event take?

Registering, training and rappelling will take approximately 1.5 hours to complete. The actual rappel will last approximately 10 minutes depending on the individual participant.

What if there's inclement weather?

Typically an Over the Edge event can continue to operate in rain. A weather-related delay will be initiated when heavy rain causes people to lose their vision, if lightning is observed nearby, or if heavy winds increase the risk of injury to participants.
